TAFT ASSUMES HIS TASK

The New President Has Commenced
His Four-Year's Work—Good Offices for Carpenter and Loeb

Washington, March 6.—President Taft took up his formal duties as president of the United States precisely at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. His first official act was to transmit to the Senate the names of his cabinet officers for confirmation.
In addition to these Mr. Taft made the following appointments: Fred W.
Carpenter, to be secretary to the president; William Loeb, Jr., formerly secretary to President Roosevelt, to be collector of customs for the port of New York.

Mr. Taft's First Message

Mr. Taft announced that in a special message to Congress he will believe and confine himself entirely to the tariff question. He will not make any suggestion as to the character of the revision, however.

Promptly at noon yesterday Vice President Sherman called the Senate to order and routine matters were in order. Then followed the democratic caucus. The committee on permanent procedure elected Senators Clarke of Arkansas, Daniel of Virginia and Taliaferro, of Florida.

NIGHT ON BALD MOUNTAIN

On a lonely night Alex. Benton, of Fort Edward, N. Y., climbed Bald mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma.
This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor.
Later it cured his son's wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it the greatest throat and lung cure on earth. Coughs, colds, croup, hem-orrhages and sore lungs are surely cured by it. Best for hay fever, grip and whooping cough. 50c. and $1.
Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

EXPOSURE WAS FATAL

To Three of the Attendants on the Inauguration

Washington, March 6.—Casualties incident to the inauguration of Mr.
Taft as president were three deaths, three other persons probably fatally injured and about seventy-five slightly hurt. The deaths are reported as the result of exposure. The injured were hurt in various ways.

YOUR LIVER

is out of order. You go to bed in a bad humor and get up with a bad taste in your mouth. You want something to stimulate your liver. Just try Herbine, the liver regulator. A positive cure for constipation, dyspepsia, and all liver complaints. Mrs. F. W.
Worth, Texas, writes: "Have used Herbine in my family for years.
Words can't express what I think about it. Everybody in my household is happy and well, and we owe it to Herbine." Sold by the Anti-Monopoly
Druggists.

A BATTLE WITH TRAMPS

Thirty Wary Willies Hold up a California Train
San Bernardino, Cal., March 6.—A freight train on the Southern Pacific railway last night was attacked by 30 armed tramps near here.
The timely arrival of a passenger train routed the tramps, after they had climbed the conductor into inseparability.

A Religious Author's Statement

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance.
My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy."

BAIL FOR CREWS

Fort Myers, Fla., March 6.—The preliminary hearing of Joe Crews, charged with killing Manual Mays, was held yesterday afternoon. The result of the hearing was that Crews was allowed bond in the sum of $500, which was furnished. Mays was killed Tuesday afternoon at Denard, during a quarrel with Crews. Finis Crews, brother of Joe, had persuaded May's daughter to run away with him. May is said to have started to abuse Crews when he met him and in the quarrel that followed Crews shot his dead.

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the whole system. Vigorous body and can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

THE ATLANTIC STATES SWEEP BY A BLIZZARD

New York, March 6.—As a result of a March blizzard, which swept down unannounced Wednesday night, the middle Atlantic seaboard, from New York to Norfolk, found itself buried in an avalanche of snow and swept by destructive winds. For a time conditions seemed to threaten a repetition of the great blizzard of March 12, 1888, but last night the storm sunk to less alarming proportions. For the telephone and telegraph companies the storm was one of the worst in years. The worst of the snow hurricane struck a wedge of territory that included Washington and Baltimore.
The region south of Philadelphia was well nigh a blank on the map, for the greater part of Thursday.

RHEUMATISM PRESCRIPTION

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple and can be made up by anyone at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is: Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kar-gon, one ounce; compound syrup of sarsaparilla, three ounces.
Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is all to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, frequent urination, pain and scalding, weakness and backache, pain above the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the eliminating tissues of the kidneys. It gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood, relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles. The extract dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleans and enriches the blood. There is nothing better than Kargon Compound for the kidneys.
This prescription is safe to use at any time.

der or rheumatic trouble. $1 bottle two

THE CAPTAIN OF THE KANSAS

A Story of Love and Adventure on the Little Known Coast of Southwestern America

(By Louis Tracy.)

CHAPTER III.

THE fierce hissing of the continuous escape of steam excited alarm in those not accustomed to machinery. Men and women share the unreasoning panic of animals when an unknown force reveals its pent-up fury. They forget that safety valves are provided; that diminished pressure means less risk.
The knowledge that restraint, not freedom, is dangerous comes ever in the guise of a new discovery.

The mining engineers of course did not share this delusion.

"There must be something serious the matter or they would not be wasting power like that," murmured the American to one of his fellow professionals.

"A smashup in the engine room.
Nothing is more certain," was the answer in Spanish.

"Wonder if any one is hurt."
The Spaniard bent a little nearer.
"What can you expect?" he whispered sympathetically.

In the unnatural peacefulness of the ship's progress, disturbed only by the roar of the superheated vapor, they all heard the opening of a door at the head of the main stairway. The third officer appeared, his wet oilskins gleaming and dripping.

"Dr. Christobal, the captain wishes to speak to you," he said.

Christobal rose and crossed the saloon.

"As you are here, won't you tell the ladies there is nothing to be afraid of in the mere stopping of the engines?" he suggested.

"Oh, the ship is right enough," was the hasty response. "There has been an accident in the stokehold. That is all."

"Want any help?" demanded the American.

"Well—I'll ask the captain." Evidently anxious to avoid further questioning, he ran up the companion-way. Christobal followed, and the door was closed and bolted again.

"I hate the word 'accident.' It covers so many horrid possibilities," said Isobel.

"I am afraid some poor fellows have been injured and that is why Captain Courtenay sent for Dr. Christobal," said Elsie.

"Oh, of course, I meant that. I was not thinking of the mere delay, though it is annoying that a breakdown should occur here."

"It would be equally bad anywhere else," put in the missionary's wife timidly.

"By no means," was the sharp response. "If we were in the strait, for instance, we could signal to San Isidro or Sandy point, and there would be other vessels passing. Here we are in the worst possible place."

To all appearance, Miss Baring alone among the passengers, now that Christobal was gone, realized vaguely the perilous plight of the Kansas. In a maritime community like that of Valparaiso there was every reason to know and dread the rock bound coast which fringed the southern path toward civilization. Strange, half forgotten stories of the terrors which await a disabled ship caught in a southwesterly gale on the Pacific side of Tierra del Fuego rose dimly in her mind, and the advancing darkness did not tend toward cheerfulness.

The curious sense of waiting, they knew not for what, which dulled the thoughts and stilled the tongues of the small company at the table soon communicated itself to the stewards.
The men stood in little knots, exchanging few words, and those mostly meaningless. But the chief steward, whose trained ear caught the regular beat of the donkey engine, woke them up with a series of sharp orders.

"Switch on the lights," he said loudly. "Clear the table and hurry up with the coffee. Get a move on those fellows, Gomez. Have you never before been in a ship when the screw stopped?"

The Gomez thus appealed to was the Englishman's second command. He acted as interpreter when anything out of the common was required. He muttered a few words in the Hispano-Indian patois which his hearers best understood, and the scene in the saloon changed with wondrous suddenness. The glow of the electric lamps banished the gathering shadows. The luxurious comfort of the apartment soon dispelled the notion of danger.

The noise of the steam exhaust ceased as abruptly as it began. The ship was riding easily in spite of the heavy sea. And then, while the occupants of the saloon were endeavoring to persuade each other that all was well, the loud wail of the siren thrilled them with increased foreboding. It was not the warning note of a fog or the sharp course signal for the guidance of a passing ship, but a sustained trumpet-ing which announced to any steamer hidden in the darkening waste of waters that the Kansas was not under control. It was a wild, sinister appeal for help, the voice of the disabled vessel proclaiming her need, and the answer seemed to come in a fiercer shriek of the gale, while the added fury of the blast brought a curling sea over the poop. The Kansas staggered and shook herself clear.

It was a nerve racking moment. It demanded the leadership of a strong man, and there are few gatherings in Anglo-Saxondom which cannot produce a Caesar when required.

"Say," shouted the American, his clear voice dominating the turmoil.
